

Video Discussion Questions

- Which images in the film made the most impression on you? Why?
- How do you respond to the following images in the film:
 - The women's excitement at having a water pipe in their village?
 - The meeting of the Bank's Board of Directors?
 - The woman's explanation of the flower-picking trade?
- The Bible study for this week focuses on Exodus 1 and 2 – the birth of Moses into an exiled and oppressed people. Do other Bible passages come to your mind when you reflect on the situation of Dalit women? Which ones?
- Who are the outcast people in your local community?
 - What structures/ attitudes keep them oppressed?
 - Who is working in solidarity with them?
 - How are they working to liberate themselves?
 - What could you do to help?

Bible Study Discussion Questions

- Are there ways that we sacrifice the lives of others for the “gods” of our lives?
 - The way Pharaoh was willing to throw the Hebrew babies into the river to pacify the River Goddess, Hapi.
 - What are these “gods” in our lives?
- Are there places in our life where we didn't see God's plan and then God brought something miraculous out of something that seemed insignificant?
 - Are there places where we still don't see God's plan?
 - Where we are taking small steps of faith, with the expectation that God will use those steps?
- The Egyptians fear that they are being overrun by the Hebrews. Are there parallels in our society? Who are the people that we see as a threat to “our” way of life?
- Where do we see the Exodus story in our own lives?
 - What little ways are we acting to lessen oppression, either as oppressors or as those oppressed?
 - Are there ways that we can take a step of faith against oppression?
Knowing that God will go the rest of the way.
- What does our imagination show is possible?